

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE INTERNATIONAL EXAMINATIONS International General Certificate of Secondary Education

DRAMA

Paper 1 Set Text PRE-RELEASE MATERIAL 0411/12/T/PRE May/June 2012

MMM. HIEMER BDEIS. COM

To be given to candidates on receipt by the Centre.

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS FIRST

The questions in Paper 1 will be based on the three stimuli and on the extract from Friedrich Dürrenmatt's play The Physicists provided in this booklet.

You may do any preparatory work that is considered appropriate. It is recommended that you perform the extract, at least informally.

You will not be permitted to take this copy of the text or any other notes or preparation into the examination. A clean copy of the text will be provided with the Question Paper.

This document consists of 22 printed pages and 2 blank pages.

STIMULI

You are required to produce a short piece of drama on each stimulus in preparation for your written examination. Questions will be asked on each of the stimuli and will cover both practical and theoretical issues.

- 1 The pen is mightier than the sword
- 2 A matter of judgement
- 3 Jump for joy!

EXTRACT

Taken from The Physicists by Friedrich Dürrenmatt

These notes are intended to help you understand the context of the drama.

Friedrich Dürrenmatt's play The Physicists was originally written in German and first performed in Switzerland in 1962.

The play is a dark comic satire about life in modern times. The world's greatest physicist, Johann Wilhelm Möbius, is in a madhouse, haunted by recurring visions of King Solomon, a character in the Bible. Möbius is kept company by two other equally deluded scientists: one who thinks he is Albert Einstein, another who believes he is Sir Isaac Newton.

It soon becomes evident, however, that these three are not as harmlessly mad as they appear. It is debatable whether they are really mad, or whether they are playing some murderous game. Added to this treacherous combination of scientists is the world-renowned psychiatrist in charge, the hunchbacked Mathilde von Zahnd.

With dark penetrating humour, The Physicists questions whether it is the mad who are the truly insane.

The extract consists of an abridged version of Act One.

Characters
Fräulein Doktor Mathilde von Zahnd	Psychiatrist
Marta Boll	Head Nurse
Monika Stettler	Nurse
Herbert Georg Beutler ("Newton")	Patient
Ernst Heinrich Ernesti ("Einstein")	Patient
Johann Wilhelm Möbius	Patient
Oskar Rose	A Missionary
Frau Lina Rose	His Wife
Adolf-Friedrich Wilfried-Kaspar Jörg-Lukas	Sons of Frau Rose from her marriage to Johann Wilhelm Möbius
Richard Voss	Inspector of Police
Guhl	Policeman
Blocher	Policeman

ACT ONE

The drawing room of a comfortable though some what dilapidated "villa" belonging to the private sanatorium known as "Les Cerisiers." Surroundings: in the immediate neighborhood, an unspoiled lakeside which gradually deteriorates into a built-up area and then into a medium-sized or even smaller town.

We never leave the drawing room of the "villa" where once all the patients of the establishment's founder, FRÄULEIN DOKTOR MATHILDE VON ZAHND, were housed.

But now the distinguished but not always very pleasant patients have been transferred long since to the elegant, light, and airy new building, where for terrific fees even the most disastrous past experiences are turned into blissful memories.

Now only three patients at the very most occupy the drawing room of the sparsely inhabited "villa": as it happens, 15 they are all three physicists. They live for themselves, each one wrapped in the cocoon of his own little world of the imagination: they take their meals together in the drawing room, from time to time discuss scientific matters or just sit gazing dully before them — harmless, lovable lunatics, 20 amenable, easily handled and unassuming. In fact, they would be model patients were it not that certain serious, nay, hideous events have recently taken place: three months ago, one of them throttled a nurse, and now the very same thing has just happened again. So once more the police are back in the house and the drawing room is more than usually animated.

The dead nurse is lying on the parquet floor in a tragic and guite unmistakable attitude, somewhat in the background, so as not to distress the public too much. But it is impossible not to see that a struggle has taken place. The furniture is in great disorder. A standard lamp and two chairs have been knocked over, and downstage left a round table has been overturned so that it presents only its legs to the spectator.

Apart from all this, the transformation into an asylum has left painful traces on the salon. (The villa was once the Zahnd summer residence.) The walls have been covered to a height of six feet with hygienic, washable, glossy paint: above this, the original decorative plaster emerges. The three doors in the background, which lead from a small hall into the physicists' sick rooms, are upholstered with black leather. Moreover, they are numbered from one to three. To the left of the little hall is an ugly central-heating unit; to the right there is a washbasin with towels on a rail.

The sound of a violin, with piano accompaniment, comes 45 from Room Number 2 (the middle room). Beethoven. Kreutzer Sonata. To the left is the wall overlooking the park, with very high windows that reach r ight down to the linoleum-covered parquet floor. Heavy curtains hang to right and left of the high windows. The glass doors lead on to a terrace, whose stone 50 balustrade is silhouetted against the green of the park and the relatively sunny November light. It is a little after half past four in the after noon. To the right, over a fireplace which is

10

5

25

30

35

40 never used and is covered by a wire guard, there hangs the portrait of an old man with a pointed beard, enclosed in a heavy, gilded frame. Downstage right, a massive oak door. A ponderous chandelier is suspended from the ceiling.

Eurpiture: baside the round table there stand when

Furniture: beside the round table there stand — when the room is in order — three chairs, all painted white like the table. The remaining furniture, with well-worn upholstery, belongs to various periods. Downstage right, a sofa and a small table flanked by two easy chairs. The standard lamp should really be behind the sofa, when the room should not appear overcrowded. We can begin.

Police officials in plain clothes are busied round the65corpse: stolid, good-natured fellows who have already65downed a glass or two of white wine: their breaths smell of65it. In the center of the drawing room stands the INSPECTOR0F POLICE, RICHARD VOSS, wearing coat and hat; on theleft is the head n urse, MARTA BOLL, looking as resolute as70she really is. In the armchair on the far right sits a policeman70taking everything down in shorthand. The inspector takes acigar out of a brown leather cigar case.

INSPECTOR: SISTER BOLL: INSPECTOR: SISTER BOLL:	All right if I smoke? It's not usual. I beg your pardon. [He puts the cigar back in the case .] A cup of tea?	75
INSPECTOR:	No brandy?
SISTER BOLL:	You're in a medical establishment.
INSPECTOR:	Then nothing. Blocher, you can take the photographs now.	80
BLOCHER:	Yes, sir. [He begins taking photographs. Flashes.]
INSPECTOR:	What was the nurse's name?
SISTER BOLL:	Irene Straub.
INSPECTOR:	Age?
SISTER BOLL:	Twenty-two. From Kohlwang.	85
INSPECTOR:	Relatives?
SISTER BOLL:	A brother in Liechtenstein.
INSPECTOR:	Informed?
SISTER BOLL:	By telephone.
INSPECTOR:	The murderer?	90
SISTER BOLL:	Please, Inspector — the poor man's ill, you know.
INSPECTOR:	Well, the assailant?
SISTER BOLL:	Ernst Heinrich Ernesti. We call him Einstein.
INSPECTOR:	Why?
SISTER BOLL:	Because he thinks he is Einstein.	95
-	to the police note-taker]: Have you got the statement down, Guhl?
GUHL:	Yes, sir.
INSPECTOR:	Strangled, doctor?
POLICE DOCTOR:	Quite definitely. With the flex of the standard lamp. These madmen often have gigantic reserves of strength. It's phenomenal.	100
INSPECTOR:	Oh. Is that so? In that case I consider it most irresponsible to leave these madmen in the care of female nurses. This is the second murder —	105
SISTER BOLL:	Please, Inspector.	100

55

60

SISTER BOLL: Do you really think so? 115 INSPECTOR: Ido. 115 SISTER BOLL: Nurse Moser was a member of the League of Lady Wrestlers and Nurse Straub was District Champion of the National Judo Association. 115 INSPECTOR: And what about you? 120 SISTER BOLL: Weight-lifter. 120 INSPECTOR: Now I'd like to see the murderer. 120 SISTER BOLL: Please, Inspector. 120 INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 126 INSPECTOR: Doing what? 130 INSPECTOR: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can't be going	INSPECTOR:	— the second accident within three months in the medical establishment known as Les Cerisiers. [He takes out a notebook .] On the twelfth of August a certain Herbert Georg Beutler, who believes himself to be the great physicist Sir Isaac Newton, strangled Dorothea Moser, a nurse. [He puts the notebook back .] And in this very room. If they'd had male attendants such a thing would never have happened.	110
SISTER BOLL: Nurse Moser was a member of the League of Lady Wrestlers and Nurse Straub was District Champion of the National Judo Association. INSPECTOR: And what about you? SISTER BOLL: Weight-lifter. INSPECTOR: Now I'd like to see the murderer. SISTER BOLL: Please, Inspector. INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. INSPECTOR: Doing what? SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. INSPECTOR: And why not? SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. INSPECTOR: And why not? SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! SISTER BOLL: Inspector, He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. SISTER BOLL: Q	SISTER BOLL:	•
and Nurse Straub was District Champion of the National Judo Association. INSPECTOR: And what about you? SISTER BOLL: Weight-lifter. 120 INSPECTOR: Now I'd like to see the murderer. 120 SISTER BOLL: Weight-lifter. 120 INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. 125 SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. 110 INSPECTOR: Ding what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL does not react.] I have to ask him some questions. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 130 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 Warm in here. No. 135 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 145 <td>INSPECTOR:</td> <td>l do.</td> <td>115</td>	INSPECTOR:	l do.	115
SISTER BOLL: Weight-lifter. 120 INSPECTOR: Now I'd like to see the murderer. 120 SISTER BOLL: Please, Inspector. 125 INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. 125 SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. 125 INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. 130 INSPECTOR: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 130 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 135 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: In spector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 Warm in here. I don't think so. <td< td=""><td>SISTER BOLL:</td><td>and Nurse Straub was District Champion of the National Judo</td><td></td></td<>	SISTER BOLL:	and Nurse Straub was District Champion of the National Judo
SISTER BOLL: Weight-lifter. 120 INSPECTOR: Now I'd like to see the murderer. 120 SISTER BOLL: Please, Inspector. 1 INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. 125 SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 130 INSPECTOR: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 135 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 140 Warm in here. Can I be going mad? 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 Warm in here. Sister Boll. I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR:	INSPECTOR:	And what about you?
INSPECTOR: Now I'd like to see the murderer. SISTER BOLL: Please, Inspector. INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? SISTER BOLL: Use cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 130 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just an y man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 140 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: Guite out of the question. The Fraulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the fraulein Doktor plays his accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the fraulein Doktor plays his accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein ca	SISTER BOLL:	•	120
INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: does not react.] 1 I have to ask him some questions. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 140 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 Warm in here. I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. Sister BolL: I don't think so. 145 Fraulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 145 145 SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question.The Fraulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more o	INSPECTOR:	•
INSPECTOR: I mean — the assailant. SISTER BOLL: He's playing his fiddle. INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: I have to ask him some questions. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 135 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just an y man, but a sick man who needs 135 calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 140 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: I don't think so. 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the 145 145 Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play ch	SISTER BOLL:	Please, Inspector.
INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: does not react.] I have to ask him some questions. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: I don't think so. INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the 145 Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. INSPECTOR: INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Si'r Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.	INSPECTOR:	•
INSPECTOR: Doing what? 125 SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? 125 INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL does not react.] I have to ask him some questions. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 135 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 140 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 SISTER BOLL: No. 140 INSPECTOR: Vargeting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. Vargeting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. Vargeting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Ware of the question.The Fraulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the '145 145 Fraulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 145 145 INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fraulein Doktor	SISTER BOLL:	He's plaving his fiddle.
SISTER BOLL: Can't you hear him? INSPECTOR: Then kindly request him to stop. [SISTER BOLL: does not react.] I have to ask him some questions. SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 135 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 140 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: No. 140 INSPECTOR: Gister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the 145 145 Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 145 140 Warm in here: Sister Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. 145 SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir I saac Newton, to c	INSPECTOR:		125
[SISTER BOLL:[SISTER BOLL:130SISTER BOLL:Definitely not.130INSPECTOR:And why not?SISTER BOLL:We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now.INSPECTOR:But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse!SISTER BOLL:Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle.INSPECTOR:Can I be going mad?SISTER BOLL:No.INSPECTOR:I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.]SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Quite out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can tak away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.	SISTER BOLL:	Can't you hear him?
[SISTER BOLL:[SISTER BOLL:130SISTER BOLL:Definitely not.130INSPECTOR:And why not?SISTER BOLL:We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now.INSPECTOR:But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse!SISTER BOLL:Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle.INSPECTOR:Can I be going mad?SISTER BOLL:No.INSPECTOR:I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.]SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Quite out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can tak away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.	INSPECTOR:	Then kindly request him to stop.
SISTER BOLL: Definitely not. 130 INSPECTOR: And why not? 130 SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. 135 INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! 135 SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just an y man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 SISTER BOLL: No. 100 INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. 135 140 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. 145 Fraulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 145 145 INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fraulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. 150 SISTER BOLL: Certainly — 150 SISTER BOLL: — but you'll have to wait. 155 INSPECTOR: How long's this fidding going to last?<
INSPECTOR: And why not? SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just an y man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? No. INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: I don't think so. 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 Warm in here. 145 Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir I saac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. 150 SISTER BOLL: Certainly — 150 SISTER BOLL: 150 SISTER BOLL: — but you'll have to wait. 150 SISTER BOLL: <td></td> <td>I have to ask him some questions.</td> <td></td>		I have to ask him some questions.
SISTER BOLL: We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to play his fiddle, and play it now. INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: I don't think so. INSPECTOR: Oute out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. SISTER BOLL: Certainly — INSPECTOR: Thank you. SISTER BOLL: Certainly — INSPECTOR: Thank you. SISTER BOLL: Pitteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last? SISTER BOLL: Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. INSPECTOR: Very well, I'll wait. [SISTER BOLL:	Definitely not.	130
INSPECTOR:play his fiddle, and play it now.INSPECTOR:But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse!SISTER BOLL:Inspector. He's not just any man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle.INSPECTOR:Can I be going mad?SISTER BOLL:No.INSPECTOR:I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.]INSPECTOR:I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.]SISTER BOLL:No.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Certainly—INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:Certainly—INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait.BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.	INSPECTOR:	And why not?
INSPECTOR: But damn it, the man's just strangled a nurse! SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just an y man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? 140 SISTER BOLL: No. Idon't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: I don't think so. 140 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. 140 SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the 145 145 Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. 150 SISTER BOLL: Certainly — 150 SISTER BOLL: — but you'll have to wait. 155 INSPECTOR: Thank you. 155 SISTER BOLL: — but you'll have to wait. 155 INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last?	SISTER BOLL:	We cannot allow it, on medical grounds. Herr Ernesti has to
SISTER BOLL: Inspector. He's not just an y man, but a sick man who needs calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle. 135 INSPECTOR: Can I be going mad? No. INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. I don't think so. 140 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. 145 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 145 INSPECTOR: Quite out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the 145 Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 140 INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. SISTER BOLL: Certainly — INSPECTOR: Thank you. SISTER BOLL: Duty ou'll have to wait. INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last? SISTER BOLL: Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. INSPECTOR: Very well, 'll wait. [He roars:] l'll wait! BLOCHER: We're just abou		play his fiddle, and play it now.
calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can only calm down when he's playing the fiddle.INSPECTOR:Can I be going mad?SISTER BOLL:No.INSPECTOR:I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.]140 Warm in here.SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.
INSPECTOR:Can I be going mad?SISTER BOLL:No.INSPECTOR:I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.]INSPECTOR:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, 'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.	SISTER BOLL:	calming down. And because he thinks he is Einstein he can	135
SISTER BOLL: No. INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 Warm in here. SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. SISTER BOLL: SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 145 INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. 150 SISTER BOLL: Certainly — 150 INSPECTOR: Thank you. 155 SISTER BOLL: — but you'll have to wait. 155 INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last? 155 SISTER BOLL: Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. 155 IThe INSPECTOR: Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait! 155 INSPECTOR: So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body. 160 BLOCHER: Very well, sir. 160	INSPECTOR
INSPECTOR: I'm getting confused. [He wipes the sweat from his forehead.] 140 SISTER BOLL: I don't think so. 140 INSPECTOR: Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge. 145 SISTER BOLL: Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments. 145 INSPECTOR: And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge. 150 SISTER BOLL: Certainly — 150 INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last? 155 SISTER BOLL: — but you'll have to wait. 155 INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last? 155 IThe INSPECTOR: Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait! 155 INSPECTOR: Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait! 155 INSPECTOR: So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body. 160 BLOCHER: Very well, sir. 160
Warm in here.SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		-	140
SISTER BOLL:I don't think so.INSPECTOR:Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR:INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		••••
SISTER BOLL:Quite out of the question.The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.145INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.150SISTER BOLL:Certainly — INSPECTOR:150SISTER BOLL:Certainly — Hank you.150SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait. INSPECTOR: How long's this fiddling going to last?155SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR: Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!155INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.160	SISTER BOLL:	I don't think so.
Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.145INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.150SISTER BOLL:Certainly — INSPECTOR:150SISTER BOLL:Dettainly — UNSPECTOR:150INSPECTOR:Thank you. SISTER BOLL:150SISTER BOLL:Dut you'll have to wait. INSPECTOR:155INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir. INSPECTOR:160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.160	INSPECTOR:	Sister Boll. Kindly fetch the doctor in charge.
INSPECTOR:Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.SISTER BOLL:Certainly — INSPECTOR:150SISTER BOLL:Certainly — Unspector:150SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.150INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?155SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.155INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?155SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.155INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!155BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.160	SISTER BOLL:	Quite out of the question. The Fräulein Doktor is accompanying
INSPECTOR:And three months ago the Fräulein Doktor had to play chess with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.150SISTER BOLL:Certainly —150INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		Einstein on the piano. Einstein can only calm down when the	145
with Sir Isaac Newton, to calm him down. We can't have any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.150SISTER BOLL:Certainly — INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		Fräulein Doktor plays his accompaniments.
any more of this, Sister. I simply must speak to the doctor in charge.150SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends. [The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.	INSPECTOR:	• • • charge.150SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.INSPECTOR:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.
SISTER BOLL:Certainly —INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		•
INSPECTOR:Thank you.SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.INSPECTOR:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		•	150
SISTER BOLL:— but you'll have to wait.INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.155[The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]155INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		•
INSPECTOR:How long's this fiddling going to last?SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.155[The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.160		•
SISTER BOLL:Fifteen minutes, an hour. It all depends.155[The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.Very well, I'll so am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.Very well, sir.		•
[The INSPECTOR controls his impatience.]INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.			455
INSPECTOR:Very well, I'll wait. [He roars:] I'll wait!BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.	SISTER BOLL:	• •	155
BLOCHER:We're just about finished, sir.INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.BLOCHER:Very well, sir.
INSPECTOR:So am I. [Silence. The INSPECTOR wipes his forehead.] You can take away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		• •
can take away the body.160BLOCHER:Very well, sir.		•
BLOCHER: Very well, sir.			160
•	BLOCHER:	• •	700
		•

0411/12/T/PRE/M/J/12

	[She opens the French windows. The body is carried out. Equipment also. The INSPECTOR takes off his hat and sinks exhaustedly into the easy chair to the left of the sofa. The fiddling continues, with piano accompaniment. Then out of Room Number 3 comes HERBERT GEORG BEUTLER in early eighteenth-century costume. He wears a full-bottomed	165
NEWTON: INSPECTOR: NEWTON:	wig.] Sir Isaac Newton. Inspector Richard Voss. [He remains seated.] I'm so glad. Really very glad. Truly. I heard a noise in here, groans and gurglings, and then people coming and going. May I inquire just what has been going on?	170
INSPECTOR: NEWTON: INSPECTOR: NEWTON: INSPECTOR:	Nurse Straub was strangled. The District Champion of the National Judo Association? The District Champion. Gruesome. By Ernst Heinrich Ernesti.	175
NEWTON: INSPECTOR: NEWTON:	But he's playing his fiddle. He has to calm himself down. The tussle must have taken it out of him. He's rather highly strung, poor boy. How did he — ?	180
INSPECTOR: NEWTON:	With the cord of the standard lamp. With the cord of the standard lamp. Yes. That's another possibility. Poor Ernesti. I'm sorry for him. Truly sorry. And I'm sorry for the Ladies' Judo Champion too. Now you'll have to excuse me. I must put things straight.	185
INSPECTOR:	Do. We've got everything we want. [NEWTON rights the table and chairs.]	190
NEWTON:	I simply can't stand disorder . Really it was my love of order that made me become a physicist — [He rights the standard lamp .] — to inter pret the apparent disorder of Nature in the light of a more sub lime order. [He lights a cigarette .] Will it disturb you if I smoke?	195
INSPECTOR:	On the contrary, I was just thinking, [He takes a cigar out of his case.]	100
NEWTON:	Excuse me, but we were talking about order just now, so I must tell you that the patients are allowed to smoke here but not the visitors. If they did it would stink the place out.	200
INSPECTOR: NEWTON: INSPECTOR:	I see. [He puts the cigar away .] Will it disturb you if I have a nip of brandy? No. Not at all. [From behind the wire guard in front of the fire NEWTON
NEWTON:	takes a bottle of brandy and a glass.] That poor Ernesti. I'm really upset. How on earth could anyone bring himself to strangle a nurse? [He sits down on the sofa and pours out a glass of brandy.]	205
INSPECTOR: NEWTON: INSPECTOR:	I believe you strangled one yourself. Did I? Nurse Dorothea Moser.	210
NEWTON: INSPECTOR: NEWTON: INSPECTOR:	The lady wrestler? On the twelfth of August. With the curtain cord. But that was something quite different, Inspector. I'm not mad, you know. Your health. And yours.	215
	[NEWTON drinks.]

NEWTON:	Dorothea Moser. Let me cast my mind back. Blonde hair. Enormously powerful. Yet, despite her bulk, very flexible. She loved me and I loved her. It was a dilemma that could only be resolved by the use of a curtain cord.	220
INSPECTOR:	Dilemma?
NEWTON:	My mission is to devote myself to the problems of gravitation, not the physical requirements of a woman.
INSPECTOR:	Quite.	225
NEWTON:	And then there was this tremendous difference in our ages.
INSPECTOR:	Granted. You must be well on the wrong side of two hundred. [NEWTON stares at him uncomprehendingly.]
NEWTON:	How do you mean?
INSPECTOR:	Well, being Sir Isaac Newton —	230
NEWTON:	Are you out of your mind, Inspector, or are you just having me on?
INSPECTOR:	Now look —
NEWTON:	Do you really think I'm Sir Isaac Newton?
INSPECTOR:	Well, don't you?	235
	[NEWTON looks at him suspiciously.]
NEWTON:	Inspector, may I tell you a secret? In confidence?
INSPECTOR:	Of course.
NEWTON:	Well, it's this. I am not Sir Isaac Newton. I only pretend to be Sir Isaac Newton.	240
INSPECTOR:	What for?	270
NEWTON:	So as not to confuse poor Ernesti.
INSPECTOR:	I don't get it.
NEWTON:	You see, unlike me, Ernesti is really sick. He thinks he's Albert
	Einstein.	245
INSPECTOR:	But what's that got to do with you?
NEWTON:	Well, if Ernesti were to find out that / am the real Albert
	Einstein, all hell would be let loose.
INSPECTOR:	Do you mean to say —
NEWTON:	I do. I am he. The celebrated physicist and discoverer of the	250 theory of relativity, born March 14th, 1879, in the city of Ulm.
	[The INSPECTOR rises in some confusion of mind.]
INSPECTOR:	How do you do?
	[NEWTON also rises.]
NEWTON:	Just call me — Albert.	255
INSPECTOR:	And you can call me Richard.
	[They shake hands.]
NEWTON:	I could give you a Kreutzer with a good deal more dash than Ernesti. The way he plays the Andante — simply barbarous!
	Simply barbarous!	260
INSPECTOR:	I don't understand anything about music.
NEWTON:	Let's sit down, shall we? [He draws the INSPECTOR down beside him on the sofa. NEWTON puts his arm around the INSPECTOR's shoulders.] Richard.
INSPECTOR:	Yes, Albert?	265
NEWTON:	You're cross, aren't you, because you can't arrest me?
INSPECTOR:	But Albert —
NEWTON:	Is it because I strangled the nurse that you want to arrest me, or because it was I who paved the way for the atomic bomb?
INSPECTOR:	But Albert —	270
NEWTON:	When you work that switch by the door, what happens, Richard?
INSPECTOR:	The light goes on.

NEWTON:	You establish an electrical contact. Do you understand
NEWTON.	anything about electricity, Richard?	275
INSPECTOR:	I am no physicist.
NEWTON:	I don't understand much about it either. All I do is to elaborate a theory about it on the basis of natur al observation. I write down this theory in the mathematical idiom and obtain	280
	several formulae. Then the engineers come along. They don't care about anything except the formulae. They treat	200 electricity as a pimp treats a whore. They simply exploit it.
	They build machines — and a machine can only be used when it becomes independent of the knowledge that led to its invention. So any fool nowadays can switch on a light or touch	285 off the atomic bomb. [He pats the INSPECTOR's shoulders.]
INSPECTOR:	And that's what you want to arrest me for, Richard. It's not fair. But I don't want to arrest you, Albert.
NEWTON:	It's all because you think I'm mad. But, if you don't understand anything about electricity, why don't you refuse to turn on the	290 light? It's you who are the criminal, Richard. But I must put my brandy away; if Sister Boll comes there will be trouble.
	[NEWTON hides the bottle of brandy behind the wire guard in front of the fire, but leaves the glass where it is.] Well,	295
INSPECTOR:	goodbye. Goodbye, Albert.	290
NEWTON:	Oh, Richard. You're the one who should be arrested.
INSPECTOR:	[He disappears into Room Number 3.] Now I will have a smoke.
	[He takes a cigar firmly out of his cigar case, lights it and	300 smokes. BLOCHER comes through the French windows.]
BLOCHER:	We're ready to leave, sir. [The INSPECTOR stamps his foot.]
	Yes, sir.
INODEOTOD.	[The INSPECTOR calms down and growls.]	305
INSPECTOR:	Go back to town with the men, Blocher. I'll come on later. I'm waiting for the doctor in charge!
BLOCHER:	Very well, sir. [BLOCHER goes.]
	[The INSPECTOR puffs out great clouds of smoke, stands up,	310 goes to the chimney piece and stands looking at the portrait. Meanwhile the violin and piano have stopped. The door to	310
	Room Number 2 opens and FRÄULEIN DOKTOR MATHILDE
	VON ZAHND comes out. She is hunchbacked, about fifty-five, wearing a white surgical overall-coat and stethoscope.]
FRL. DOKTOR:	My father, August von Zahnd, Privy Councillor. He used to	315 live in this villa before I turned it into a sanatorium. He was a great man, a real person. I am his only child. He hated me like poison; indeed he hated everybody like poison. And with good reason, for as an expert in economics, he saw, revealed in human beings, abysses which are for ever hidden from	320 psychiatrists like myself. We psychiatrists are still hopelessly romantic philanthropists.
INSPECTOR:	Three months ago there was a different portrait hanging here.
FRL. DOKTOR:	That was my uncle, the politician. Chancellor Joachim von Zahnd. [She lays the music score on the small table in front of	325
	the sofa.] Well, Ernesti has calmed down. In the end he just	525 flung himself on the bed and fell sound asleep. Like a little boy, not a care in the world. I can breathe again: I was afraid he'd want to fiddle through the entire Brahms G Major Sonata.
	[She sits in the armchair left of sofa.]	330
	_

	Evouse me Fräulein Dekter for emeking in here. Lasther it's INSPECTOR:	Excuse me, Fräulein Doktor, for smoking in here. I gather it's prohibited, but —
FRL. DOKTOR:	Smoke away as much as you like, Inspector. I badly need a cigarette myself; Sister or no Sister. Give me a light. [He lights her cigarette and she smokes.] Poor Nurse Straub. Simply	335 frightful. She was such a neat, pretty little thing. [She notices the glass.] Newton?
INSPECTOR:	I had the pleasure of speaking to him.
FRL. DOKTOR:	I'd better put it away.
INSPECTOR:	Allow me. [The INSPECTOR forestalls her and puts the glass	340 away.]
FRL. DOKTOR:	On account of Sister Boll, you know.
INSPECTOR:	I know.
FRL. DOKTOR:	So you had a talk with Sir Isaac?	o / -
INSPECTOR:	Yes, and I discovered something. [He sits on the sofa.]	345
FRL. DOKTOR:	Congratulations.
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR:	Newton thinks he is really Einstein. That's what he tells everybody. But in fact he really believes
FRE. DORTOR.	he is Newton.
INSPECTOR [taken	aback]: Are you sure?	350
FRL. DOKTOR:	It is I who decide who my patients think they are. I know them	000 far better than they know themselves.
INSPECTOR:	Maybe so. In that case you should co-operate with us, Fräulein Doktor. The authorities are complaining.
FRL. DOKTOR:	The public prosecutor?	355
INSPECTOR:	Fuming.
FRL. DOKTOR:	As if it were my business, Inspector.
INSPECTOR:	But two murders —
FRL. DOKTOR:	Please, Inspector.	000
INSPECTOR:	Two accidents in three months. You must admit that the safety precautions in your establishment would seem inadequate.	360
FRL. DOKTOR:	What sort of safety precautions have you in mind, Inspector? I
THE DORTON.	am the director of a medical establishment, not a reformatory.
	One can't very well lock murderers up before they have committed their murders, can one?	365
INSPECTOR:	It's not a question of murderers but of madmen, and they can commit murders at any time.
FRL. DOKTOR:	So can the sane; and, significantly, a lot more often. I have only to think of my grandfather, Leonidas von Zahnd, the Field Marshal who lost e very battle he ever fought. What age do	370 you think we're living in? Has medical science made great advances or not? Do we have new resources at our disposal, drugs that can transform raving madmen into the gentlest of lambs? Must we start putting the mentally sick into solitary confinement again, hung up in nets, I shouldn't wonder, with	375 boxing gloves on, as they used to? As if we were still unable	375 to distinguish between dangerous patients and harmless ones.
INSPECTOR:	You weren't much good at distinguishing between them in the cases of Beutler and Ernesti.	380
FRL. DOKTOR:	Unfortunately, no. That's what disturbs me, not the fuming of your public prosecutor.
	[EINSTEIN comes out of Room Number 2, carrying his violin.
	He is lean with long, snow-white hair and mustache.]
EINSTEIN:	l just woke up.	385
FRL. DOKTOR:	Oh, Professor!

EINSTEIN: FRL. DOKTOR: EINSTEIN: FRL. DOKTOR: EINSTEIN: FRL. DOKTOR:	Did I play well? Beautifully, Professor. What about Nurse Irene? Is she — Don't give it another thought, Professor. I'm going back to bed. Yes, do, Professor. [EINSTEIN goes back into his room. The INSPECTOR has jumped to his feet.]	390
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR:	So that was him! Yes. Ernst Heinrich Ernesti. The murderer — Please, Inspector. I mean, the assailant, the one who thinks he's Einstein. When was he brought in?	395 400
FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR:	Two years ago. And Sir Isaac Newton? One year ago. Both incurable. Look here, Voss, I'm no beginner, God knows, at this sort of job. You know that, and so does the public prosecutor; he has always respected my professional opinion. My sanatorium is world-famous and the fees are correspondingly high. Errors of judgment and incidents that bring the police into my house are luxuries I cannot afford. If anything was to blame here, it was medical	405
	science, not me . These incidents could not have been foreseen; you or I would be just as likely to strangle a nurse. No — medically speaking there is no explanation for what has happened. Unless — [She has taken a fresh cigarette . The INSPECTOR lights it for her.] Inspector. Haven't you noticed	410
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR:	something? What do you mean? Consider these two patients. Yes? They're both physicists. Nuclear physicists.	415
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR:	Well? Inspector, you really have a very unsuspecting mind. [The INSPECTOR ponders .] Doktor von Zahnd.	420
FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR:	Well, Voss? You don't think — They were both doing research on radioactive materials. You suppose there was some connection? I suppose nothing. I merely state the facts. Both of them	425
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR:	go mad, the conditions of both deteriorate, both become a danger to the public and both of them strangle their nurses. And you think the radioactivity affected their brains? I regret to say that is a possibility I must face up to. [The INSPECTOR looks about him.]	430
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR:	What's on the other side of the hall? The green drawing room and upstairs. How many patients have you got here now? Three. Only three?	435
FRL. DOKTOR:	The rest were transferred to the new wing immediately after the first incident. Fortunately I was able to complete the building just in time. Rich patients contributed to the costs. So did my own relations. They died off one by one, most of	440

	them in here. And I was left sole inheritor. Destiny, Voss. I am always sole inheritor. My family is so ancient, it's something of a miracle, in medicine, that I should be relatively normal, I mean, mentally. [The INSPECTOR thinks a moment.]	445
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR:	What about the third patient? He's also a physicist. Well, that's extraordinary. Don't you think so? Not at all. I put them all together. The writers with the writers, the big industrialists with the big industrialists, the millionairesses with the millionairesses, and the physicists with the physicists.	450
INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR: FRL. DOKTOR: INSPECTOR:	What's his name? Johann Wilhelm Möbius. Was he working with radioactive materials as well? No. Mightn't he also perhaps —	455
FRL. DOKTOR:	He's been fifteen years here. He's harmless. His condition has never changed.	460
INSPECTOR:	Doktor von Zahnd, you can't get away with it like that. The public prosecutor insists that your physicists have male attendants.
FRL. DOKTOR:	They shall have them. [The INSPECTOR picks up his hat.]	465
INSPECTOR:	Good. I'm glad you see it that way. This is the second visit I have paid to Les Cerisiers, Fräulein Doktor. I hope I shan't have to pay a third. Goodbye.
	[He puts on his hat, goes out left through the French windows on to the terrace and makes his way across the park. DOKTOR MATHILDE VON ZAHND gazes thoughtfully after him. Enter right the SISTER, MARTA BOLL, who stops short,	470
SISTER BOLL: FRL. DOKTOR:	sniffing the air. She is carrying a patient's dossier.] Please, Fräulein Doktor. Oh, I'm sorry. [She stubs out her cigarette.] Have they laid out Nurse Straub?	475
SISTER BOLL: FRL. DOKTOR: SISTER BOLL: FRL. DOKTOR:	Yes, under the organ loft. Have candles and wreaths put round her. I've already telephoned the florists about it. How is my Great-aunt Senta? Restless.	480
SISTER BOLL: FRL. DOKTOR: SISTER BOLL:	Double her dose. And my Cousin Ulrich? No change.	105
FRL. DOKTOR:	Fräulein Sister Boll, I regret to say that one of our traditions here at Les Cerisiers must come to an end. Until now I have employed female nurses only. From tomorrow the villa will be in the hands of male attendants.	485
SISTER BOLL:	Fräulein Doktor von Zahnd. I won't let my three physicists be snatched away from me. They are my most interesting cases.	490
FRL. DOKTOR: SISTER BOLL:	My decision is final. I'd like to know where you are going to find three male nurses, what with the demand for them these days.
FRL. DOKTOR: SISTER BOLL: FRL. DOKTOR:	That's my problem. Leave it to me. Has Frau Möbius arrived? She's waiting in the green drawing room. Send her in.	495

SISTER BOLL:	Here is Möbius's dossier. [SISTER BOLL gives her the dossier and then goes to the door on the right, where she
FRL. DOKTOR:	turns.] But — Thank you, Sister, thank you. [SISTER BOLL goes. The DOKTOR opens the dossier and studies it at the round table, SISTER BOLL comes in again right leading FRAU ROSE and three boys of fourteen, fifteen, and airteen. The addect is corruing a briefaces. HERP ROSE	500 and sixteen. The eldest is carrying a briefcase. HERR ROSE, a missionary, brings up the rear. The DOKTOR stands up.] My dear Frau Möbius —	505
FRAU ROSE:	Rose. Frau Rose. It must be an awful surprise to you, Fräulein Doktor, but three weeks ago I married Herr Rose, who is a missionary. It was perhaps rather sudden. We met in September at a missionary convention. [She blushes and rather awkwardly indicates her new husband .] Oskar was a widower.	510
FRL. DOKTOR:	[The FRÄULEIN DOKTOR shakes her by the hand .] Congratulations, Frau Rose, heartiest congratulations. And my best wishes to you, too, Herr Rose. [She gives him a	515 friendly nod.]
FRAU ROSE:	You do understand why we took this step?
FRL. DOKTOR:	But of course, Frau Rose. Life must continue to bloom and flourish.
HERR ROSE:	How peaceful it is here! What a friendly atmosphere! Truly a divine peace reigns over this house, just as the psalmist says: For the Lord heareth the needy and despiseth not his	520
FRAU ROSE:	prisoners. Oskar is such a good preacher, Fräulein Doktor. [She blushes .] My boys.	525
FRL. DOKTOR:	Good afternoon, boys.	020
THREE BOYS:	Good afternoon, Fräulein Doktor. [The youngest picks something up from the floor.]
JÖRG-LUKAS:	A piece of electric wire, Fräulein Doktor. It was lying on the floor.	530
FRL. DOKTOR:	Thank you, young man. Grand boys you have, Frau Rose. You can face the future with confidence. [FRAU ROSE sits on the sofa to the right, the DOKTOR at the table left. Behind the sofa the three boys, and on the chair at extreme right, HERR ROSE.]	535
FRAU ROSE:	Fräulein Doktor, I have brought my boys with me for a very good reason. Oskar is taking over a mission in the Marianas.
HERR ROSE:	In the Pacific Ocean.
FRAU ROSE:	I thought it only proper that my boys should make their father's acquaintance before their departure. This will be their one and only opportunity. They were still quite small when he fell ill and	540
FRL. DOKTOR:	now, perhaps, they will be saying goodbye for ever. Frau Rose, speaking as a doctor, I would say that there might be objections, but speaking as a human being I can understand your wish and gladly give my consent to a family reunion.	545
FRAU ROSE:	And how is my dear little Johann Wilhelm?
	[The DOKTOR leafs through the dossier.]
FRL. DOKTOR:	Our dear old Möbius shows signs neither of improvement nor of relapse, Frau Rose. He's spinning his own little cocoon.	550
FRAU ROSE:	Does he still claim to see King Solomon out of the Bible?
FRL. DOKTOR:	Yes.

HERR ROSE: The possibility of animate: FRL.DOKTOR: Whether the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Whether the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Whether the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Winter the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Whether the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Winter the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Whether the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Winter the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Winter the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Winter the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. Winter the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick. main a bad enough way with our dear old Möbius, even though his illness takes rather a mild form. As for helping him, goodness me, another course of insubins back to health; but I certainly don't want to make his life a misery either. 565 Process the know that I've — I mean, does he know about the divorce? 570 FRAU ROSE: Did he understand? 571 FRAU ROSE: He takes hardly any interest in the outside world any more. 575 FRAU ROSE: Fradule Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had our eldes to by. Adolf-Friedrich, and then came the two others. 570 FRAU	HERR ROSE: FRL. DOKTOR:	A sad and deplorable delusion. Your harsh judgment sur prises me a bit, Herr Missionary. Nevertheless, as a theologian you must surely reckon with the possibility of a miracle.	555 of mind and with the ner ves, and in this respect things are in a bad enough way with our dear old Möbius, even though his iilness takes rather a mild form. As for helping him, goodness me, another course of insulin shock treatment might be indicated, but as the others have been without success I'm leaving it alone. I can't work miracles, Frau Rose, and I can't pamper our dear old Möbius back to health; but I certainly don't want to make his life a misery either.565FRAU ROSE:Does he know that I've — I mean, does he know about the divorce?570FRL. DOKTOR:He has been told the facts.570FRL. DOKTOR:He takes hardly any interest in the outside world any more. Fraulein Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had rented an attic room. He was an orphan and wretchedly poor. 		Oh, of course — but not in the case of someone mentally sick. Whether the manifestations perceived by the mentally sick are real or not is something which psychiatry is not competent to indicated, but as the others have been without success I'm leaving it alone. I can't work miracles, Frau Rose, and I can't pamper our dear old Möbius back to health; but I certainly don't want to make his life a misery either.565FRAU ROSE:Does he know that I've — I mean, does he know about the divorce?570FRL. DOKTOR:He has been told the facts.570FRAU ROSE:Did he understand?570FRAU ROSE:Did he understand?575FRAU ROSE:Fraulein Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had 		of mind and with the ner ves, and in this respect things are in a bad enough way with our dear old Möbius, even though his illness takes rather a mild form. As for helping him, goodness	560
Glivorce?570FRL_DOKTOR:He has been told the facts.FRAU ROSE:Did he understand?FRAU ROSE:Fraulein Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had rented an attic room. He was an orphan and wretchedly poor. I helped him through high school and later made it possible for him to read physics at the university. We got married on his twentieth birthday, against my parents' wishes. We worked 		indicated, but as the others have been without success I'm leaving it alone. I can't work miracles, Frau Rose, and I can't pamper our dear old Möbius back to health; but I certainly	565
FRAU ROSE: Did he understand? FRL. DOKTOR: He takes hardly any interest in the outside world any more. FRAU ROSE: Fräulein Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had rented an attic room. He was an orphan and wretchedly poor. I helped him through high school and later made it possible for him to read physics at the university. We got married on his twentieth birthday, against my parents' wishes. We worked day and night. He was writing his dissertation and I took a job with a transport company. Four years later we had our eldest boy, Adolf-Friedrich, and then came the two others. Finally there were prospects of his obtaining a professorship; we thought we could begin to relax at last. But then Johann Wilhelm fell ill and his illness swallowed up immense sums of money. To provide for my family I went to work in a chocolate factory. Tobler's chocolate factory. [She silently wipes a way a tear.] For years I worked my fingers to the bone. [They are all moved.] 590 FRL. DOKTOR: Frau Rose, you are a brave woman. 591 HERR ROSE: And a good mother. Fraulein Doktor, until now I have made it possible for Johann Wilhelm to stay in your establishment. The fees are fa beyond my means, but God came to my help time and time again. All the same, I am now, financially speaking, at the end of my tether. I simply cannot raise the extra money. 595 FRAU ROSE: I'm afraid now you'll think I married Oskar so as to get out of providing for Johann Wilhelm. But that is not so. Things will be even more difficult for me now. Oskar brings me six sons from his previous	FRAU ROSE:		570
FRL. DOKTOR: He takes hardly any interest in the outside world any more. Fräulein Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had rented an attic room. He was an orphan and wretchedly poor. I helped him through high school and later made it possible for him to read physics at the university. We got married on his twentieth birthday, against my parents' wishes. We worked day and night. He was writing his dissertation and I took a job with a transport company. Four years later we had our eldest boy, Adolf-Friedrich, and then came the two others. Finally there were prospects of his obtaining a professorship; we thought we could begin to relax at last. But then Johann Wilhelm fell ill and his illness swallowed up immense sums of money. To provide for my family I went to work in a chocolate factory. Tobler's chocolate factory. [She silently wipes a way a tear.] For years I worked my fingers to the bone. [They are all moved.] 590 FRL. DOKTOR: Frau Rose, you are a brave woman. 595 HERR ROSE: And a good mother. Fraulein Doktor, until now I have made it possible for Johann Wilhelm to stay in your establishment. The fees are far beyond my means, but God came to my help time and time again. All the same, I am now, financially speaking, at the end of my tether. I simply cannot raise the extra money. 595 FRAU ROSE: I'm afriaid now you'll think I married Oskar so as to get out of providing for Johann Wilhelm. But that is not so. Things will be even more difficult for me now. Oskar brings me six sons from his previous marriage! 605 FRAU ROSE: Six. Six. Oskar is
I helped him through high school and later made it possible for him to read physics at the university. We got married on his twentieth birthday, against my parents' wishes. We worked day and night. He was writing his dissertation and I took a job with a transport company. Four years later we had our eldest boy, Adolf-Friedrich, and then came the two others. Finally there were prospects of his obtaining a professorship; 	FRL. DOKTOR:	He takes hardly any interest in the outside world any more. Fräulein Doktor. Try to understand my position. I am five years older than Johann Wilhelm. I first met him when he was a fifteen-year-old schoolboy, in my father's house, where he had	575
Finally there were prospects of his obtaining a professorship; we thought we could begin to relax at last. But then Johann Wilhelm fell ill and his illness swallowed up immense sums of money. To provide for my family I went to work in a chocolate factory. Tobler's chocolate factory. [She silently wipes a way a tear.] For years I worked my fingers to the bone. [They are all moved.]590FRL. DOKTOR:Frau Rose, you are a brave woman.590HERR ROSE:And a good mother. Fraulein Doktor, until now I have made it possible for Johann 		I helped him through high school and later made it possible for him to read physics at the university. We got married on his twentieth birthday, against my parents' wishes. We worked day and night. He was writing his dissertation and I took a job with a transport company. Four years later we had our	580
FRL. DOKTOR:Frau Rose, you are a brave woman.HERR ROSE:And a good mother.FRAU ROSE:Fräulein Doktor, until now I have made it possible for Johann Wilhelm to stay in your establishment. The fees are far beyond my means, but God came to my help time and time again. All the same, I am now, financially speaking, at the end of my tether. I simply cannot raise the extra money.FRL. DOKTOR:That's understandable, Frau Rose.FRAU ROSE:I'm afraid now you'll think I married Oskar so as to get out of providing for Johann Wilhelm. But that is not so. Things will be even more difficult for me now. Oskar brings me six sons from his previous marriage!FRL. DOKTOR:Six?HERR ROSE:Six.Six.Skar is a most zealous father. But now there are nine boys to feed and Oskar is by no means robust. And his salary is not high. [She weeps.]		Finally there were prospects of his obtaining a professorship; we thought we could begin to relax at last. But then Johann Wilhelm fell ill and his illness swallowed up immense sums of money. To provide for my family I went to work in a chocolate factory. Tobler's chocolate factory. [She silently wipes a way a	585
HERR ROSE:And a good mother.FRAU ROSE:Fräulein Doktor, until now I have made it possible for Johann Wilhelm to stay in your establishment. The fees are far beyond my means, but God came to my help time and time again. All the same, I am now, financially speaking, at the end of my tether. I simply cannot raise the extra money.595FRL. DOKTOR:That's understandable, Frau Rose.1'm afraid now you'll think I married Oskar so as to get out of providing for Johann Wilhelm. But that is not so. Things will be even more difficult for me now. Oskar brings me six sons from his previous marriage!600FRL. DOKTOR:Six?Six.HERR ROSE:Six.Six.FRAU ROSE:Six.Six.FRAU ROSE:Six.Six.Six.six.Six.FRAU ROSE:Six.Six.FRAU ROSE:Six.Six.Six.six.Six.FRAU ROSE:Six.Six.FRAU ROSE:Six.Six.Six.six.Six.Six.six.605boys to feed and Oskar is by no means robust. And his salary is not high. [She weeps.]605	FRL. DOKTOR:	-	590
FRL. DOKTOR: FRAU ROSE:That's understandable, Frau Rose. I'm afraid now you'll think I married Oskar so as to get out of providing for Johann Wilhelm. But that is not so. Things will be even more difficult for me now. Oskar brings me six sons from his previous marriage!600FRL. DOKTOR: HERR ROSE:Six? Six.Six? Six.FRAU ROSE:Six. Oskar is a most zealous father. But now there are nine boys to feed and Oskar is by no means robust. And his salary is not high. [She weeps.]605		And a good mother. Fräulein Doktor, until now I have made it possible for Johann Wilhelm to stay in your establishment. The fees are far beyond my means, but God came to my help time and time again. All the same, I am now, financially speaking, at the end of my	595
FRL. DOKTOR:Six?HERR ROSE:Six.FRAU ROSE:Six. Oskar is a most zealous father. But now there are nineboys to feed and Oskar is by no means robust. And his salary is not high. [She weeps.]		That's understandable, Frau Rose. I'm afraid now you'll think I married Oskar so as to get out of providing for Johann Wilhelm. But that is not so. Things will be even more difficult for me now. Oskar brings me six sons from	600
• • • •	HERR ROSE:	Six? Six. Six. Oskar is a most zealous father. But now there are nine boys to feed and Oskar is by no means robust. And his salary	605
	FRL. DOKTOR:	• • • •

0411/12/T/PRE/M/J/12

FRAU ROSE:	I reproach myself bitterly for having left my poor little Johann Wilhelm in the lurch.	610
FRL. DOKTOR:	Frau Rose! You have no need to reproach yourself.
FRAU ROSE;	My poor little Johann Wilhelm will have to go into a state institution now.
FRL. DOKTOR:	No he won't, Frau Rose. Our dear old Möbius will stay on here in the villa. You have my word. He's got used to being here and has found some nice, kind colleagues. I'm not a monster, you know!	615
FRAU ROSE: FRL. DOKTOR:	You're so good to me, Fräulein Doktor. Not at all, Frau Rose, not at all. There are such things as grants and bequests. There's the Oppel Foundation for invalid scientists, there's the Doktor Steinemann Bequest. Money's as thick as muck around here and it's my duty as his doctor to pitchfork some of it in the direction of your dear little	620
	Johann Wilhelm. You can steam off to the Marianas with a clear conscience. But now let us have a word with Möbius himself — our dear, good old Möbius. [She goes and opens the door Number 1. FRAU ROSE rises expectantly.] Dear Möbius. You have visitors. Now leave your physicist's lair for a moment and come in here.	625
	[JOHANN WILHELM MÖBIUS comes out of Room Number 1. He is about forty, a rather clumsy man. He looks around him uncertainly, stares at FRAU ROSE, then at the boys, and finally at the missionary, HERR ROSE. He appears not to recognize them and remains silent.]	630
FRAU ROSE:	Johann Wilhelm!	635
THREE BOYS:	Papi!
	[MÖBIUS remains silent.]
FRL. DOKTOR:	My dear Möbius, you're not going to tell me you don't recognize your own wife?
	[MÖBIUS stares at FRAU ROSE.]	640
MÖBIUS:	Lina?
FRL. DOKTOR:	That's better, Möbius. Of course it's Lina.
MÖBIUS:	Hullo, Lina.
FRAU ROSE: FRL. DOKTOR:	My little Johann Wilhelm, my dear, dear little Johann Wilhelm. There we are, now. Frau Rose, Herr Rose, if you have anything else to tell me I shall be at y our disposal in the new wing over there. [She goes off through door left.]	645
FRAU ROSE:	These are your sons, Johann Wilhelm. [MÖBIUS starts .]
MÖBIUS:	Three?	650
FRAU ROSE:	Of course, Johann Wilhelm. Three. [She introduces the boys to him.] Adolf-Friedrich, your eldest. [MÖBIUS shakes his hand.]
MÖBIUS:	How do you do, Adolf-Friedrich, my eldest.
	How do you do, Papi.	655
MÖBIUS:	How old are you, Adolf-Friedrich?
ADOLF-FRIEDRICH:
MÖBIUS:	What do you want to be?
ADOLF-FRIEDRICH:
MÖBIUS:	I remember now. We were walking across St. Joseph's Square. I was holding your hand. The sun was shining brightly and the shadows were just as if they'd been drawn with a compass. [MÖBIUS turns to the next boy .] And you — you are — ?	660

15

	My name is Wilfried-Kaspar, Papi.	665
MÖBIUS:	Fourteen?
	Fifteen. I should like to study philosophy.
MÖBIUS: FRAU ROSE:	Philosophy? He's an exceptionally mature boy for his age.
	I have read Schopenhauer and Nietzsche.	670
FRAU ROSE:	This is your youngest boy, Jörg-Lukas. Fourteen.	010
JÖRG-LUKAS:	How do you do, Papi.
MÖBIUS:	How do you do, Jörg-Lukas, my youngest.
FRAU ROSE:	He's the one who takes after you most.
JÖRG-LUKAS:	I want to be a physicist, Papi.	675
MÖDUJO	[MÖBIUS stares at his youngest in horror.]
MÖBIUS:	A physicist?
JÖRG-LUKAS: MÖBIUS:	Yes, Papi. You mustn't, Jörg-Lukas. Not under any circumstances. You
MODIOS.	get that idea right out of your head. I — I forbid it!	680
	[JÖRG-LUKAS looks puzzled.]	000
JÖRG-LUKAS:	But you became a physicist yourself, Papi —
MÖBIUS:	I should never have been one, Jörg-Lukas. Never. I wouldn't be in the madhouse now.
FRAU ROSE:	But Johann Wilhelm. That's not right. You are in a sanatorium,	685 not a madhouse. You're having a little trouble with your nerves, that's all.
MÖBIUS:	[MÖBIUS shakes his head .] No, Lina. People say I am mad. Everybody. Even you. And my
MOBIOS.	boys too. Because King Solomon appears to me.	690
	[They are all str uck dumb with embarr assment. Then FRAU	000
	ROSE introduces HERR ROSE.]
FRAU ROSE:	Let me introduce Oskar Rose to you, Johann Wilhelm. He is my husband. A missionary.
MÖBIUS:	Your husband? But I'm your husband.	695
FRAU ROSE:	Not any more, my little Johann Wilhelm. [She blushes.] We're
MÖBIUS:	divorced, you know.
FRAU ROSE:	Divorced? Now you know that, surely?
MÖBIUS:	No.	700
FRAU ROSE:	Doktor von Zahnd told you. Of course she did.	,00
MÖBIUS:	Possibly.
FRAU ROSE:	And then I married Oskar. He has six boys of his own. He was a minister at Guttannen and now he has been given a post in the Marianas.	705
MÖBIUS:	In the Marianas?
HERR ROSE:	In the Pacific Ocean.
FRAU ROSE: MÖBIUS:	We're joining the ship at Bremen tomorrow. I see. [He stares at HERR ROSE. They are all embarrassed .]
FRAU ROSE:	Yes, that's right.	710
THUR TROOL	[MÖBIUS nods to HERR ROSE.]	110
MÖBIUS:	I am glad to make the acquaintance of my boys' new father.
HERR ROSE:	I have taken them to my bosom, Herr Möbius, all three of them. God will provide. As the psalmist says: The Lord is my 50440005	shepherd, I shall not want.	715
FRAU ROSE:	Oskar knows all the psalms off by heart. The Psalms of David,
MÖBIUS:	The Psalms of Solomon. I am glad the boys have found such an excellent father. I have not been a satisfactory father to them.
	[The three boys protest at this.]	720

	THREE BOYS: MÖBIUS: FRAU ROSE:	Ah, no, Papi. And Lina has found a husband more worthy of her. But my dear little Johann Wilhelm —
	MÖBIUS: FRAU ROSE: MÖBIUS: FRAU ROSE: MÖBIUS:	I congratulate you. Heartiest congratulations. We must be going soon. To the Marianas. I mean, we must say goodbye to one another. For ever.	725
	FRAU ROSE:	Your sons are remarkably musical, Johann Wilhelm. They are very gifted players on their recorders. Play your papi something, boys, as a parting present.	730
	THREE BOYS:	Yes, mama. [ADOLF-FRIEDRICH opens the briefcase and distributes recorders.]
	FRAU ROSE:	Sit down, my little Johann Wilhelm. [MÖBIUS sits down at the round table. FRAU ROSE and HERR ROSE sit down on the sofa. The boys take their places in the middle of the room.] Now. What are you going to play?	735
	JÖRG-LUKAS: FRAU ROSE:	Something by Buxtehude. Ready — one, two, three. [The boys play .] More feeling, boys, more expression!	740
	MÖBIUS:	[The boys play with more expression. MÖBIUS jumps up.] I'd rather they didn't. Please, don't! [The boys stop playing, bewildered.] Don't play any more. Please. For King Solomon's sake. Don't play any more.	745
	FRAU ROSE: MÖBIUS:	But Johann Wilhelm! Please, don't play any more. Please, don't play any more, please, please.	750
	HERR ROSE:	Herr Möbius, King Solomon himself will rejoice to hear the piping of these innocent lads. Just think: Solomon, the Psalmist, Solomon, the singer of the Song of Songs.
	MÖBIUS:	Herr Missionary. I have met Solomon face to face. He is no longer the great golden king who sang of the Shulamite, and of the two young roes that are twins, which feed among the roses. He has cast away his purple robe! [MÖBIUS suddenly	755
		dashes past his horrified family to his room and throws open the door.] Now here in my room he crouches naked and stinking, the pauper king of truth, and his psalms are horrible. [He has run to the round table left, turned it over, climbed into it, and sat down.]	760
	SISTER BOLL:	But Herr Möbius! [SISTER BOLL has entered, right, with NURSE MONIKA. MÖBIUS sits staring blankly, his face like a mask, inside the overturned table.]	765
	MÖBIUS: FRAU ROSE: THREE BOYS: MÖBIUS:	And now get yourselves off to the Marianas! My little Johann Wilhelm — Papi! Get yourselves away! And quick about it! Off to the Marianas the whole pack of you! [He stands up with a threatening look. The ROSE family is nonplussed.]	770
	SISTER BOLL: MÖBIUS:	Come, Frau Rose. Come boys. Herr Rose. He needs time to calm down. Away with you! Get out!	775
21	112		ırn over

SISTER BOLL:	Just a mild attack. Nurse Monika will stay with him and calm him down. Just a mild attack.
MÖBIUS:	Get out, will you! For good and all! Off to the P acific with the lot of you!	780
JÖRG-LUKAS:	Goodbye, Papi! Goodbye!
	[SISTER BOLL leads the overwrought and weeping family off right. MÖBIUS goes on yelling unrestrainedly after them.]
MÖBIUS:	I never want to set eyes on you again! You have insulted King
	Solomon! May you be damned for ever! May you and the entire Marianas sink and drown in the Mariana Deep! Four	785 thousand fathoms down! May you sink and rot in the blackest hole of the sea, forgotten by God and man!
MONIKA:	We're alone now. Your family can't hear you any more. [MÖBIUS stares wonderingly at NURSE MONIKA and finally	790
u	seems to come to himself.]
MÖBIUS:	Ah, yes, of course. [NURSE MONIKA is silent. He is somewhat embarrassed.] Was I a bit violent?
MONIKA:	Somewhat.
MÖBIUS:	I had to speak the truth.	795
MONIKA:	Obviously.
MÖBIUS:	l got worked up.
MONIKA:	You were putting it on.
MÖBIUS:	So you saw through me?
MONIKA:	I've been looking after you for two years now.	800
MÖBIUS:	[He paces up and down, then stops.]
MOBIOS. MONIKA:	All right. I admit I was just pretending to be mad. Why?
MÖBIUS:	So that I could say goodbye to my wife and sons for ever.
MODICO. MONIKA:	But why in such a dreadful way?	805
MÖBIUS:	Oh no, it was a humane way. If you're in a madhouse	000 already, the only way to get rid of the past is to behave like a madman. Now they can forget me with a clear conscience.
	My performance finally cured them of ever wanting to see me again. The consequences for myself are unimportant;	810 life outside this establishment is the only thing that counts Madness costs money. For fifteen years my Lina has been paying out monstrous sums, and an end had to be put to all that. This was a favorable moment. King Solomon has revealed to me what was to be revealed; the Principle of	815
	Universal Discovery is complete, the final pages have been	015 dictated, and my wife has found a new husband, a missionary, a good man through and through. You should feel reassured now, nurse. Everything is in order. [He is about to go .]
MONIKA:	You had it all planned.	820
MÖBIUS:	I am a physicist. [He turns to go to his room.]
MONIKA:	Herr Möbius.
MÖDUJO	[He stops.]
MÖBIUS:	Yes, nurse?	005
MONIKA: MÖBIUS:	I have something to tell you. Well?	825
MODIOS. MONIKA:	It concerns us both.
MÖBIUS:	Let's sit down.
· · - · ·	[They sit down: she on the sofa, he in the armchair on its left.]
MONIKA:	We must say goodbye to one another too. And for ever.	830
	[He is frightened.]
MÖBIUS:	Are you leaving me?

MONIKA: MÖBIUS:	Orders. What has happened?
MODIOS. MONIKA:	I'm being transferred to the main building. From tomorrow the patients here will be supervised by male attendants. Nurses won't be allowed to enter the villa any more.	835
MÖBIUS:	Because of Newton and Einstein?
MONIKA:	At the request of the public prosecutor. Doktor von Zahnd feared there would be difficulties and gave way.	840
	[Silence. He is dejected.]	0.0
MÖBIUS:	Nurse Monika, I don't know what to say. I've forgotten how to express my feelings; talking shop with the two sick men I live with can hardly be called conversation. I am afraid that I may have dried up inside as well. Yet you ought to know that for me everything has been different since I got to know you. It's been more bearable. These were two years during	845 which I was happier than before. Because through you, Nurse Monika, I have found the courage to accept being shut a way, to accept the fate of being a madman. Goodbye. [He stands,	850
	holding out his hand.]
MONIKA:	Herr Möbius, I don't think you are mad.
MÖBIUS:	[MÖBIUS laughs and sits down again.]
MOBIUS.	Neither do I. But that does not alter my position in any way. It's	055
	my misfortune that King Solomon keeps appearing to me and in the realm of science there is nothing more repugnant than	855 a miracle.
MONIKA:	Herr Möbius, I believe in this miracle.
	[MÖBIUS stares at her, disconcerted.]
MÖBIUS:	You believe in it?	860
MONIKA:	I believe in King Solomon.	000
MÖBIUS:	And that he appears to me?
MONIKA:	That he appears to you.
MÖBIUS:	Day in, day out?
MONIKA:	Day in, day out.	865
MÖBIUS:	And you believe that he dictates the secrets of nature to me?
	How all things connect? The Principle of Universal Discovery?
MONIKA:	I believe all that. And if you were to tell me that King David and all his court appeared before you I should believe it all. I simply know that you are not sick. I can feel it.	870
	[Silence. Then MÖBIUS leaps to his feet.]
MÖBIUS:	Nurse Monika! Get out of here!
	[She remains seated.]
MONIKA:	I'm staying.
MÖBIUS:	I never want to see you again.	875
MONIKA:	You need me. Apart from me, you have no one left in all the MÖDUJO	world. Not one single person.
MÖBIUS:	It is fatal to believe in King Solomon.
MONIKA:	l love you. [MÖBIUS stares perplexed at MONIKA, and sits down again.	880
MÖBIUS:	Silence.]
	I love you too. [She stares at him.] That is why you are in danger. Because we love one another danger. Because we love one another. [EINSTEIN, smoking his pipe, comes out of Room Number 2.]
EINSTEIN:	I woke up again. I suddenly remembered.	885
MONIKA:	Now, Herr Professor.	505
EINSTEIN:	I strangled Nurse Irene.

MONIKA:	Try not to think about it, Herr Professor.
	[He looks at his hands.]
EINSTEIN:	Shall I ever again be able to touch my violin with these hands? [MÖBIUS stands up as if to protect MONIKA.]	890
MÖBIUS:	You were playing just now.
EINSTEIN:	Well, I hope?
MÖBIUS: EINSTEIN:	The Kreutzer Sonata. While the police were here. The Kreutzer! Well, thank God for that! [His face, having	895
EINSTEIN.	brightened, clouds over again.] All the same, I don't like playing the fiddle and I don't like this pipe either. It's foul.	095
MÖBIUS:	Then give them up.
EINSTEIN:	I can't do that, not if I'm Albert Einstein. [He gives them both a
	sharp look.] Are you two in love?	900
MONIKA:	We are in love.
	[EINSTEIN proceeds thoughtfully upstage to where the
	murdered nurse lay.] Nurse Irene and I were in love too. She would have done
EINSTEIN:	anything for me. I warned her. I shouted at her. I treated her	905 like a dog. I implored her to run away before it was too late.	500
	In vain. She stayed. She wanted to take me away into the country. To Kohlwang. She wanted to marry me. She even obtained permission for the wedding from Fräulein Doktor von Zahnd herself. Then I strangled her. Poor Nurse Irene. In all	910
	the world there's nothing more absurd than a woman's frantic desire for self-sacrifice.
	[MONIKA goes to him.]
MONIKA:	Go and lie down again, Herr Professor.
EINSTEIN:	You may call me Albert.	915
MONIKA:	Be sensible, now, Albert.
EINSTEIN:	And you be sensible, too, Nurse. Obey the man you love and run away from him; or you're lost. [He turns back toward Room
	Number 2.] I'm going back to bed. [He disappears into Room
	Number 2.]	920
MONIKA:	That poor, confused creature.
MÖBIUS:	Well, he must have convinced you finally of the impossibility of remaining in love with me.
MONIKA: MÖBIUS:	But you're not mad. It would be wiser if you were to treat me as if I were. Make	925
MOBIUS.	your escape now! Go on, run! Clear off! Or I'll treat you like a	925 dog myself.
MONIKA:	Why can't you treat me like a woman?
MÖBIUS:	Come here, Monika. [He leads her to an armchair, sits down opposite her, and takes her hands.] Listen. I have committed	930 a grave mistake. I have not kept King Solomon's appearances to myself. So he is making me atone for it. For life. But you ought not to be punished for what I did. In the eyes of the world, you are in love with a man who is mentally sick. You're simply asking for trouble. Leave this place; forget me: that	935 would be the best thing for us both.
MONIKA:	Don't you want me?
MÖBIUS: MONIKA:	Why do you talk like that?
	I want to sleep with you. I want to have children by you. I know I'm talking quite shamelessly. But why won't you look at me?	940
	Don't you find me attractive? I know these nurses' uniforms are	0.0
	hideous. [She tears off her nurse's cap.] I hate my profession!
	For five years I've been looking after sick people out of love for my fellow-beings. I never flinched; everyone could count on me: I sacrificed myself. But now I want to sacrifice myself for one person alone, to exist for one person alone, and not for everybody all the time. I want to exist for the man I love. For you. I will do anything you ask, work for you day and night:	945

MÖBIUS:	only you can't send me away! I have no one else in the world! I am as much alone as you. Monika. I must send you away.	950
	y]: But don't you feel any love for me at all?
MÖBIUS:	I love you, Monika. I love you. That's what's mad.
MONIKA:	Then why do you betray me? And not only me . You say that
	King Solomon appears to you. Why do you betray him too?	955
	[MÖBIUS, terribly worked up, takes hold of her.]
MÖBIUS:	Monika! You can believe what you like of me. I'm a weakling; all right. I am unworthy of your love. But I have always remained faithful to King Solomon. He thrust himself into my life, suddenly, unbidden, he abused me, he destroyed my life,	960
	but I have never betrayed him.
MONIKA:	Are you sure?
MÖBIUS:	Do you doubt it?
MOBIOS. MONIKA:	•
MONIKA.	You think you have to atone because you have not kept his	065 appearances secret. But perhaps it is because you do not	965 stand up for his revelations.
	[He lets her go.]
MÖBIUS:	I — I don't follow you.
MONIKA:	He dictates to you the Principle of Universal Discovery. Why
u	won't you fight for that principle?	970
MÖBIUS:	But after all, people do regard me as a madman.
MONIKA:	Why can't you show more spirit?
MÖBIUS:	In my case, to show spirit would be a crime.
MONIKA:	Johann Wilhelm. I've spoken to Fräulein Doktor von Zahnd.
	[MÖBIUS stares at her.]	975
MÖBIUS:	You spoke to her?
MONIKA:	You are free.
MÖBIUS:	Free?
MONIKA:	We can get married.
MÖBIUS:	God.	980
MONIKA:	Fräulein Doktor von Zahnd has arranged everything.
	Of course, she still considers you're a sick man, but not dangerous. And it's not a hereditary sickness. She said she was madder than you, and she laughed.
MÖBIUS:	That was good of her.	985
MONIKA:	She's a great woman.
MÖBIUS:	Indeed.
MONIKA:	Johann Wilhelm! I've accepted a post as district nurse in
-	Blumenstein. I've been saving up. We have no need to worry.
	All we need is to keep our love for each other.	990
	[MÖBIUS has stood up. It gradually gets darker in the room.]
	Isn't it wonderful?
MÖBIUS:	Indeed, yes.
MODICO: MONIKA:	You don't sound very happy.
MÖNINA. MÖBIUS:	It's all happened so unexpectedly —	995
MOBIOS. MONIKA:	l've done something else.	330
MÖNIKA. MÖBIUS:	What would that be?
MOBIUS: MONIKA:
MÖNIKA: MÖBIUS:	I spoke to Professor Schubert.
	He was my teacher.

MONIKA:	He remembered you perfectly. He said you'd been his best pupil.	1000
MÖBIUS:	And what did you talk to him about?
MONIKA:	He promised he would examine your manuscripts with an open mind.
MÖBIUS:	Did you explain that they have been dictated by King Solomon?	1005
MONIKA:	Naturally.
MÖBIUS:	Well?
MONIKA:	He just laughed. He said you'd always been a bit of a joker.
MONIO.	Johann Wilhelm! We mustn't think just of ourselves. You are a chosen being. King Solomon appeared to you, revealed himself in all his glory and confided in you the wisdom of	1010 the heavens. Now you have to take the way ordained by that miracle, turning to neither left nor right, even if that way leads	1015 through mockery and laughter, through disbelief and doubt. But the way leads out of this asylum, Johann Wilhelm, it leads	1015 into the outside world, not into loneliness, it leads into battle.
	I am here to help you, to fight at your side. Heaven, that sent you King Solomon, sent me too.
	[MÖBIUS stares out of the window.]	1020
	Dearest.
MÖBIUS:	Yes dear?
MONIKA:	Aren't you happy?
MÖBIUS:	Very.
MONIKA:	Now we must get your bags packed. The train for Blumenstein	1025 leaves at eight twenty.
MÖBIUS:	There's not much to pack.
MONIKA:	It's got quite dark.
MÖBIUS:	The nights are drawing in quickly now.
MONIKA:	I'll switch on the light.	1030
MÖBIUS:	Wait a moment. Come here.
	[She goes to him. Only their silhouettes are visible.]
MONIKA:	You have tears in your eyes.
MÖBIUS:	So have you.
MONIKA:	Tears of happiness.	1035
	[He rips down the curtain and flings it over her. A brief struggle. Their silhouettes are no longer visible. Then silence.
	The door to Room Number 3 opens. A shaft of light shines into the darkened room. In the doorway stands NEWTON in eighteenth-century costume. MÖBIUS rises.]	1040
NEWTON:	What's happened?
MÖBIUS:	I've strangled Nurse Monika Stettler.
	[The sound of a fiddle playing comes from Room Number 2.]
NEWTON:	Einstein's off again. He's playing Kreisler's Humoresque.
	[He goes to the fireplace and gets the brandy.]	1045

BLANK PAGE

Copyright Acknowledgements:

EXTRACT Friedrich Dürrenmatt; Die Physiker; © 1986 Diogenes Verlag AG Zurich Switzerland. All rights reserved.

Permission to reproduce items where third-par ty owned material protected by copyright is included has been sought and cleared w here possible. Every reasonable effort has been made by the publisher (UCLES) to trace copyright holders, but if any items requiring clearance have unwittingly been included, the publisher will be pleased to make amends at the earliest possible opportunity.

University of Cambridge International Examinations is part of the Cambridge Assessment Group. Cambridge Assessment is the br and name of University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate (UCLES), which is itself a department of the University of Cambridge.